AN important decision has been rendered by Secretary STRAUS of the Department of Commerce and Labor as to the right of a state to induce immigration to that state. The decision holds, in brief, that in the circumstances there is no violation of the immigration laws or of the law to prohibit the importation of alien contract laborers in the action of the state of South Carolina in this particular case, in encouraging immigration to that state, or in paying the necessary expenses of the immigrants in coming to the state.

The case on which the decision is based originated in South Carolina. On November 4th, 1906, the steamship Wittekind arrived from Bremen at the port of Charleston, having on board about 475 aliens destined to various points in the state of South Carolina.

All of these aliens were induced to migrate to the United States by the state of South Carolina, the state acting through the medium of its Commissioner of Agriculture, Commerce and Immigration, who went to Europe some time in August for the purpose of inducing desirable immigrants to come to the state; the passage money of the aliens was paid by the state from a fund, part of which was appropriated by the state and the balance being contributed by various corporations and individuals.

The Commissioner of Immigration of South Carolina found employment and distributed these aliens to various points in the state. The aliens were free to accept or reject any offers of employment made to them.

The question of the right of a state under the National Immigration Laws to encourage immigration was raised by the officials of another Southern state. It was referred to the Department of Commerce and Labor. Realizing its importance, Secretary METCALF referred the legal question involved to Solicitor EARL of the Department for an opinion. Mr. EARL decided there had been no violation of the National Law by the authorities of South Carolina.

Food for Farmers' Thoughts

Continued.

Editor of the public Ledger

I notice in your issue of December 16th an art supposed to be written by a Farmer of mason County of Meemorian spiritualism. hypotism. but he left out Trust—ism. All those doctrine of which he believes are suggestion. wonder if he thinks that the large dividen that he is receiving from the Tobacco trust is only a suggestion, and the farmers are comforted and clothed and fed simply and solely through the hypotic power in their possession against farmer. Wonder if the poor unhappy sick miserable farmer are deceived in the same manner in the prices that he has been getting for Tobacco, when he hardly makes both ends meet and has not enough money left out of his crop after he pays his Debt to buy a calico necktie; does he think he could persuade him to sing psalms to Lord for his grate prosperity.

I am glad to here him talk about over grate crops of corn, wheat, and Tobacco, but he failed to state that when comes to Marketing it he is as helpless as the babe in the cradle. Takes Just what the other fellow will give him.

When he States that machinery has reduced the expense he failed to State the consumption was increasing far a head of the production. the Goblins will get you if you dont look out. they have already got us and the goblins will haft to pay for getting us to

Mr. Duke the official head of the american Tobacco Co may have quote many things what he could do, but he has failed to quote the same price for us farmer Tobacco that the American Society of Equity quotes. Mr Duke can Quote his price from now on his finist product but Mr Farmer intends from now on to Quote his price on his own Product. It is true the meanest man on earth is he who goes to another and tells him some mean things some one has said about him. That is certainly true, and is also true that when the agents of the american tobacco go round and tell the poor farmers that they have enough to Tobacco to last them for Six or Seven yrs. and buy his crop for 8 cts per lb and at the same time not have enough tobacco to last them 6 months. He says the farmer are not fools. "You are right Bro. that art is to unconvulsive proof that you are one of the supporters of Mr Duke who does not use cuss words. Bro farmer while you was writing up John D. Rockefeller cheap price oil and his putting his penny in and Taking out sixteen and a penny why did you not write up the A—T. Co Buying the farmers Tobacco at 50 ct per hund in 94-95 and selling it back to him $50 or in other words giving the a penny a lb and returning it back to him for 30 to 50 penny pr lb.

Bro Farmer you say the trust depend on the farmer—there never was nothing more true—and the rest of us farmers are going to Show them how much they must depend on us by controlling more than a half of all the white Burly Tobacco this yr.

So Bros you may live on a farm; but you dont belong to the intelligent class of Farmers For I don't believe there is any farmer in Mason Co who owns a farm that will grow Tobacco but what raises a few Acres and he don't intend to be fooled any longer by the trust Buster Yours Friendly FARMER

Steps have been taken in Cincinnati to oust 'Squire McElfresh of Millcreek Township, because he holds Court in Cincinnati, which is outside of his jurisdiction.

Yesterday was the winter solstice, at which time the sun in its apparent journey to the South, reaches its extreme limit. For all places in the Northern hemisphere it was the shortest day in the year.

NEW MOVE Society For The Protection of Helpless and Unfortunate

If there is one thing above another mostly needed in this goodly little city of ours it is an organization on the lines of a Protective Association. Other places of less pretension and importance have them, then why not Maysville? Such a Society, composed of the Christian and philanthropic ladies of this community, rightly and systematically conducted, could do a world of good in looking after the unprotected and helpless. Through its gentle and persuasive influences many a wayward youth might be halted and turned from the evil of their downward course.

There are many ways in which the Association could lend its aid in the upbuilding of a sentiment tending to a higher plane of morality and a more rigid enforcement of the laws of our city.

There is a sentiment pervading among the ladies here tending to the formation of a Society of such a character and it is to be hoped that it will materialize at no late day.

The necessity of something being done to ameliorate and better the condition of the helpless and unfortunate in our midst was brought to the knowledge of a couple of ladies yesterday while slumming in the West End, being chaperoned by one of Chief Ort's finest.

Among other places visited was the home of the Bakers in Wall street. Here they found a mother and four children, whose ages ranged from five months to six years, huddled in one room in the second story of a dilapidated building, and surrounded by the direct poverty imaginable. There was not the semblance of furniture in the room, a little two-hole stove with a handful of coal served to warm their bodies, a pile of rags in the corner answered as a bed for the children. The husband was in Jail and the forlorn family depended on the charity of the neighbors for a sustenance.

The visit to this house was for a special purpose—that of securing the consent of the mother to the placing of her children in charge of the Kentucky Childrens Home Society at Louisville, which she finally did after considerable persuasion on the part of the two ladies.

It is said Baker will not give his consent to the transaction. That being the case Judge Newell can, if he so wills, declare him an unfit person for their keeping. The children should by all means be sent to the Home, if it be possible to do so.

There are other cases similar to the above here that are not generally known.

STOPS ANY ITCHING
Doan's Ointment Cures Eczema and
Itching Piles. Maysville People
Recommend It.

One application of Doan's Ointment stops any itching. Short treatment cures eczema, itching piles, salt rheum—any skin eruption or skin itching. It is the cheapest remedy to use because so little of it is required to bring relief and a cure. Here is Maysville testimony to prove it:
Mrs. Kate Poth, living at the corner of Clark street and Forest avenue, Maysville, Ky., says:
"I gave a statement about Doan's Ointment which was published in our Maysville papers.
I said that I had received most decided benefit from the use of this remedy, procured at J.
James Wood & Son's Drugstore. For a long time I had an itching or eczema of the scalp.
It broke out in spots, and sometimes the spots would appear on my forehead and temples.
The itching was particularly troublesome just before a rain, and then was so intense that I could not sleep at night. It required only a short use of Doan's Ointment to cure the trouble and the cure has been lasting for the past five years. There has never been even an indication of a recurrence. A friend of mine also had eczema and tried everything for it but never found anything to remove the annoyance.
On my recommendation she used Doan's Ointment and was absolutely cured."
